

Engineering Apprenticeship Programme.

Apply today.

BOC is delighted to announce the official launch of its new Engineering & Technical Apprenticeship programme, offering 60 places across its UK sites over the next five years. The programme will provide first class training in mechanical, electrical, instrumental and general engineering skills.

BOC is a member of The Linde Group – the world's leading industrial gases and engineering company. With more than 50,000 employees in over 100 countries, you will be joining one of the best Apprenticeship Programmes this sector has to offer.

To apply, please visit www.BOOnline.co.uk/ukapprenticeships